

Elegant Escapism

Hidden in a side street just off the hustle and buzz of central Seminyak, Bali. The crowds enjoying the hip and happening neighborhood is just outside the front door of this modern day utopia designed by Renato Guillermo De Pola. Yet, as you step inside you can slip into the privacy of your own company and party almost completely away from it all.

Elegancia is located in Jalan Beraban in the middle of the trendy Seminyak area famous for its boutiques, restaurants and nightlife and only a walk away from the beach. More specifically it's placed in the vicinity of the well known Ultimo Restaurant on Bali's most talked about "Eat-Street". Five minutes from the beach, the best and trendy shops & restaurants, near to golfs and thirty minutes drive from the airport.

Elegancia is a four bedroom, double story villa with a separate "pool house" and swimming pool and adjacent small manicured garden. All the amenities of a luxury home is presented with eclectic yet elegant decor as a trendy Parisian loft. As you step inside from the front door, a lush indoor garden with glass and steel staircase and hanging crystal chandelier greets you to the left. Just as you would want to run upstairs though, you will notice an art work with a Vespa hanging on the wall with the words “la dolce vita” on it. Instantaneously your eyes will venture further into the contemporary designed living area and you will realize that here inside this villa you will indeed get a taste of the sweet life!

The well equipped kitchen and spacious dining room is any entertainers dream. Whether you would want to cook yourself or hire a chef to entertain your friends with, there is no need to leave the villa in search of good food or good company. The lounging area downstairs can accommodate a small party, but is cosy enough to also just be a quite sitting area in-case of bad weather or if you just need to chill. In case of a bright sunny day, the pool outside is a heaven. The sun-umbrellas and stretched out pool deck chairs, plus small soft couched day bed is definitely where you would love to linger all day long...

When night comes and you need to retreat to your bedroom, each of the four rooms offer complete spacious privacy and comfort. All the on-suite bathrooms are unique in design and functionality. The favorite being the wooden bath tub that offers a sensuous experience as you lie back in the soft luxury of solid teak. The artwork, color themes and interior concept is a feast to the senses and in tune with the urban trend of cocooning. Sometimes although you know you are in the heart of a social scene it is nice to retreat
